

Hallockville is excited to announce our new Children's Summer Series program for 2011. This year, our completely restructured program is more rewarding and exciting than ever, offering a greater emphasis on age-appropriate education and activities. Our program is now more focused, giving your camper the opportunity to gain in depth knowledge in subjects that captivate and inspire them.

Taking a step back into history, children will have the opportunity to explore traditional farm life as North Fork farmers did centuries ago. Campers will construct an old-style village from the ground up, putting together a miniature hamlet that will become the backdrop for the rest of their summer series experience.

Whether attending one week or all six, your child will participate in a complete and well-rounded educational unit designed to immerse them into life on an old-time farm. Activities include wood working, weaving and knitting, caring for farm animals, farming and gardening, playing traditional games, music and dance, costume making, and a variety of other hands-on projects.

Hallockville's Children's Summer Series will be an exciting and unique adventure for all.
